

ICRSP Founders realized that one of the main causes of unemployment in Africa is the experience-trap. That is, most of the youths who are of the employment age have the educational requirement but lack the practical work experience that employers seek. Therefore, the founders saw the importance of providing a responsive on-the-job training program that meets international standards. With such facilitation, the participants are equipped with professional work experience that give them the ability to leverage the international job market.
